

ALL HOPE CENTERED ON CARPATHIA AND RESCUED THOUGHT TO BE ON BOARD

VESSEL WITH SURVIVORS OF THE TITANIC EXPECTED TO REACH PORT BY THURSDAY NIGHT IS CUNARD LINE OFFICIALS' STATEMENT.

DETAILS STILL MEAGER

Washington Officials Will Take Action—No Newspaper Correspondents to Be Allowed to Board the Carpathia—Government Vessels in Touch With Situation.

New York, April 17.—The Cunard office officially announced this afternoon that they expected the Carpathia would dock at midnight Thursday. Vice President Franklin of the White Star line said that the company places faith in the message that Captain Rostron has eight hundred survivors of the Titanic on board the Carpathia.

To Investigate. Washington, April 17.—The senate resolution providing for an investigation of the loss of the Titanic was adopted without discussion.

To Safeguard. As a compliment to the congressional investigation of the scope of which has not yet been fully determined, Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor Nagel, will take up at once with President Taft the entire subject of safeguarding ocean travel by more stringent American shipping investigations.

To Testify. Survivors of the Titanic disaster will be summoned to Washington to tell committees of congress the facts concerning the inability of the steamship officials to save the lives of all the passengers on the liner. Representative Alexander of Missouri, chairman of the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries, announced today an investigation in which the passengers will give the chief testimony will be made.

The iceberg which caused the Titanic disaster was a giant one quarter to a half mile in length, rising 400 feet out of the water, according to the confident beliefs of government marine officers, based upon reports just received here.

To Meet Survivors. Green Bay, April 17.—A wireless message from the steamer Carpathia, received here this afternoon by V. I. Minahan, requests that he meet Mrs. W. K. Minahan and Miss Daisy Minahan at New York City on the arrival of the steamer. No mention is made of Dr. W. E. Minahan, who accompanied his wife and daughter on the Titanic.

To Start Vessel. Halifax, N. S., April 17.—The cable ship Mackay-Bennett which has been chartered by the White Star Line to go to the scene of the Titanic disaster, was being loaded today preparatory to departure.

Ready to Start. In the hope that some bodies may be picked up, collars are being included in the cargo and several undertakers and embalmers will go along. The cable ship Minia, which was in the vicinity of the disaster has arrived here with no survivors on board.

Coffins and Ice. It had been hoped that she might have picked up a few stragglers floating on rafts or among the wreckage. In addition to 100 coffins, the Mackay-Bennett is taking over 100 tons of ice.

Former Experience. The mission of this ship recalls the disaster to the steamship La Bourgogne when a similar vessel was fitted here to search the sea for the dead.

Found Bodies. At that time more than 20 bodies were floating in the vicinity of the disaster although the vessel did not rescue.

No Revenue Cutters. After a conference with President Taft it was announced by Secretary of the Treasury McVough that no revenue cutters would be ordered to meet the Carpathia unless new conditions arise. The two scout cruisers already ordered to meet the Carpathia are much faster boats than the revenue cutters.

No Newspaper Men. Secretary McVough also said the treasury department had been informed by officials of the Cunard company, which owns the Carpathia, that no newspaper men would be permitted to board the Carpathia. The President and Mr. McVough both believed, it was said, that the rescued from the Titanic, hysterical as most of them undoubtedly would be, should be undisturbed until they reach land.

Entry Easy. Mr. McVough has issued orders that all the rescued from the Titanic be allowed to land at New York without undergoing an examination by customs officers. They will be permitted to go directly to their homes when they land.

Go To New York. Senator and Mrs. Guggenheim left today for New York to meet the Titanic survivors. The Senator's brother, Benjamin Guggenheim, one of wealthiest men in the world, was on the Titanic. The family have given up practically all hope.

Another Daring. Appleton, Wis., April 17.—Fears are expressed by friends of Harold Spencer, son of Attorney A. M. Spencer, of this city, that he has been lost in wreck of the Titanic. Mr. Spencer was married about a year ago to Mrs. Amanda Howe Valentine, formerly a Philadelphia heiress and widow of a wealthy Englishman. They had been living in St. Louis and Mr. Spencer recently wrote his father they expected to sail shortly for America, although he gave no date.

French Sympathy. Paris, April 17.—The French government today transmitted to Washington and London an official expression of France's regret in connection with the disaster to the Titanic.

Peace Society. London, Eng., April 17.—A message of the executives of the British committee for the celebration of the centenary of peace held under the presidency of Earl Gray, today passed a resolution expressing profound and heartfelt sympathy to the families of those lost with the Titanic. In particular it expressed its solicitude for the safety of William T. Stead, a member of the committee, who was traveling by the vessel on a mission of peace.

From Italy. Rome, Italy, April 17.—Both Pope Pius and King Victor Emmanuel have expressed their deep sympathy for the victims of the Titanic disaster.

Germany's Emperor. London, Eng., April 17.—The text of the German Emperor's message of sympathy sent to the White Star Line is as follows:

"Abdication, April 17.—Deeply grieved by the sad news of the terrible disaster which has befallen your line, I send you the expression of my deepest sympathy and also with all those who mourn the loss of relatives and friends."

Signed, WILLIAM, I. R.

Is Hays Safe?

Montreal, April 17.—The assertion sent out from here yesterday that C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk railway system, was safe, which information cannot now be substantiated, was endorsed by the three evening papers yesterday. The papers based their statements on supposed authoritative information secured through interviews.

Just In Touch. New York April 16.—In the faintest touch with the wireless station at Sable Island the Cunard liner Carpathia with 853 survivors of the sunk Titanic on board was creeping down the coast early this morning as fast as would be permitted. Speeding up the coast and hoping to get within wireless speaking distance of

CASHIER OF BANK ARRESTED TODAY

Official of Defunct Bank in New Orleans Charged Today.

—Other Officers Arrested Many Times.

New Orleans, April 17.—Further investigation into the affairs of the suspended Tontine bank and trust company resulted in the arrest of A. W. Allen, vice-president and former cashier, early today, on the charge of receiving deposits knowing the bank was insolvent. He furnished $10,000 ball. Eugene Huber, president, was arrested twice yesterday, four times in all. He is out under $5,000 ball to answer charges of embezzling $1,500 and $8,500, making false statements and concealing the condition of the bank and receiving deposits knowing of its insolvency. Joseph H. Gouillard, director and chairman of the finance committee made another trip to the jail and decided to stay rather than furnish $5,000 ball. He is held on 6 charges, 2 embezzlements making false statement, and concealing conditions, and 3 forgeries of approximately $11,500. Frank J. Brand, former cashier, with embezzling $60,000, is in jail in default of $20,000 ball. Emilio C. Roehl, W. S. Rodgers, and P. E. Brue, are held as material witnesses.

Hope For Word.

That the Chester's expectations on this point were not realized there seemed to be every hope that through the machinery which the government had set in motion the first word from the Carpathia might be secured within a reasonably short time. The injection of the scout cruisers into the situation indeed seemed to afford the only mode of opening up of communication with the Carpathia until she reached the wireless zone of Nantuxet as she apparently too far off shore and her wireless apparatus too weak to reach the Sable Island station in a way to admit of the ready transmission of messages.

List the Same.

That more than 1300 persons passengers and crew had gone down with the gigantic liner was the belief that grew into almost a positive conviction as hour after hour passed.

Late Message.

The White Star line made public this morning the following unsigned message from the Steamship Carpathia:

"Carpathia east of Ambrose, 580 miles from port Tuesday all well."

By Ambrose is meant Ambrose Channel the entrance of New York harbor. The line officials think the Carpathia will arrive here about nine tomorrow night.

MENOMINEE MAYOR IS VERY RADICAL

Newly Appointed Official Being Watched With Much Concern by Citizens.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Marquette, Wis., April 16.—Frank Kartheiser, the new mayor of Menominee, elected on a reform platform, recommended at the council meeting last night that the police force be cut down from seven to one patrolman. He says that years ago when the city had one hundred saloons it got along with one policeman and he sees no reason why it cannot be done now. The new mayor controls the council and an opportunity may be afforded this rest of the country to see the peace and dignity of a city of eleven thousand people preserved by one blue coat.

He also recommended that the factory also purchased by the city last year and turned over to the Commercial club for boating purposes, be legally wrested from the Business Men's association and sold and the money returned to the city treasury.

He also stated in his inaugural message that the city was building too many pavements and he recommended that hereafter if it proved necessary to have new pavements the property-holders should pay the entire cost. His attitude on these various questions is causing much concern.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Paris, April 17.—A cloudless day gave a fine opportunity to the many representatives of scientific and astronomical societies assembled in Paris from all parts of the world to study the eclipse of the sun which occurred today. As the cone of the moon's shadow ran directly through Paris from the southwest after touching Europe at Portugal, there was an excellent chance for making good observations. The eclipse began about 10:45 when hundreds of people carrying smoked glasses stood on the streets or visited the suburbs, especially St. Germain-en-Laye where the eclipse was total. In the city itself the eclipse was not quite total, the crescent of the sun showing at its climax at 12:10, after which the sun rapidly emerged.

ROAD COMMISSIONER DENIED AUTOMOBILE

RESOLUTION TO PURCHASE CAR VOTED DOWN, 22 TO 17 AFTER LONG DISCUSSION.

COMMITTEES FOR YEAR

Were Announced at Session of County Board This Morning—Other Business Transacted Today.

By a vote of 22 to 17 at three o'clock this afternoon the county board of supervisors decided not to purchase an automobile for the use of the County Highway Commissioner as part of his traveling expenses for the current year. A resolution was offered by Supervisor Richardson at the meeting of the board providing for the purchase of a machine.

Consideration of the resolution was taken up at two o'clock and the pros and cons of the matter were duly presented. Commissioner B. S. Jones was called upon for his opinion and he stated at some length his opinion. He said he was not asking the county to buy him a machine but he believed he could work to the best interests of the county if he was provided with some better means of getting over the ground. If he was any good to the county it was while he was at the scene of operations.

Supervisor Gottle while not informed as to details of expense in regard to automobile, horses and buggy and any other means of conveying the mileage, was opposed to the purchase of a machine. The road commissioner was followed by the chairman and the work could be taken care of without the doubtful expense of a machine to the county. Supervisor Moore of the highway committee spoke at some length in favor of the purchase of a machine. Other members of the board asked numerous questions and finally the question was voted upon with the vote of 22 to 17 against the adoption. Even after the vote was taken it was doubtful whether the matter would be allowed to rest as something of a heated discussion was started which proved unproductive to the other business in hand.

Committees Are Named.
At the morning session of the county board the committees appointed by the chairman A. C. Gray were read by the county clerk as follows:

No. 1.—Tax certificates and illegal taxes: H. H. Mosely, K. K. Newhouse and H. T. Harper.

No. 16.—Bonds of county officers, consisting of two members of the county board and the chairman of the county board: J. A. Denning and Simon Smith.

Discuss Insurance Matter.
The matter of the insurance on the county buildings was the most important matter to come before the board at the session this morning. Supervisor Hopkins, chairman of the building committee, offered a verbal report to the effect that the committee, after an investigation of the state insurance proposition which was adopted at the last meeting of the board, the committee had found that insurance in the old line companies might be purchased at a considerable saving.

He stated that under the state insurance plan the county would be required to insure their buildings up to ninety per cent of their true value, which had not been the custom in the past. He gave figures to show that the cost of ninety per cent insurance for a five year term would be $21 per thousand in the private companies and $30 per thousand with the state.

Supervisor Gottle offered the resolution that the matter of insuring the county buildings be left entirely to the discretion of the building committee, to insure with the state or private companies, whichever was the more economical, and that any previous resolution of the board conflicting with the resolution be rescinded. The resolution was adopted with the understanding that the building committee offer a report in writing.

Other Business Matters.
Superintendent D. M. Barless of the county farm and insane asylum appeared.

peared before the board with the recommendation that two new boilers be purchased for the county heating plant at the asylum and hospital. He stated that the two boilers now in use were twenty years old and that should they give out, the heating facilities would be seriously impaired. On the motion of Supervisor McVay the matter was referred to the building committee to report tomorrow at eleven o'clock.

Supervisor How of the town of Avon, presented a petition to the board asking for an appropriation of $500 to defray the county's part in the expense of building two bridges in the town of Avon. Supervisor Swingle presented a similar petition for $800 from the town of Turle, and another petition from the town of Fulton was read asking for $400. These were referred to committee No. 12.

At the opening of the session this morning the county clerk read resolutions from the Racine and Langlade county boards protesting at the division of the inheritance taxes between the state and county which are at present seven and one-half per cent to the county and ninety-two and one-half per cent to the state, and recommending a division of fifty per cent each. The Langlade county board also sent a protest at the high road law and placed on file.

Supervisor Richardson offered a resolution to the effect that a sum of $750 be appropriated from the general fund to purchase an automobile for the county highway commissioner. The matter was left over for consideration at two o'clock this afternoon.

Suggests That Two or Three Days Next Week Be Devoted to Cleaning the City Up Thoroughly.

City Health Officer Cunningham plans for Monday and possibly three days next week devoted to a general cleaning up of the city and hauling away refuse. He makes suggestion that property owners get ready in time to have the refuse hauled away, by cleaning their cellars first, burning leaves and refuse and otherwise preparing for the grand cleaning day when it comes. He hopes to make arrangements so that all the teams in the city can be available on one or two days to haul away the refuse which he suggests be piled in the streets in readiness. Those wagons the property owner can pay for or pay some organization that may take charge of the work.

NOTED LECTURER TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

Mrs. Lulu L. Shepard, prominent W. C. T. U. worker, to Give Two Addresses at Local Churches.

Mrs. Lulu Loveland Shepard, state president of the W. C. T. U. of Utah, and a national lecturer for the temperance organization, has given two addresses in this city on Sunday, April 21st. Mrs. Shepard will speak in the morning at the Carroll M. E. church and in the evening will address a union meeting of the evangelist churches at the Presbyterian edifice.

It is the plan of the local W. C. T. U. to secure several speakers of national prominence each year to address the Janesville public and Mrs. Shepard's engagement is a part of this plan. Mrs. Shepard is one of the strongest speakers of the Union. She has two series of lectures, one on "Temperance," and the other on "Purity," and will probably speak on one subject from each series during her engagement here. Some of the topics are as follows: On "Temperance," "Four Great Evils," "Purity and Virtue," "The Saloon's Responsibility for Ruined Homes," "The Great Iniquity," and "Cleanliness Next to Godliness," on purity some of the subjects are: "The Boy Problem," "Let There Be Light," "Touching the Sanctity of the Body," "Intoxication Between Men and Women," "Secrets," and "Moral Training in the Public Schools."

Mrs. Shepard has a reputation throughout the country as an orator of power and has been compared to Francis Willard and Lady Henry Somerset. She also comes from a state where the women have exercised the right of franchise and she herself has voted at many elections.

As the question of equal suffrage in this time, Mrs. Shepard's appearance will have an additional interest to many of the citizens of Janesville.

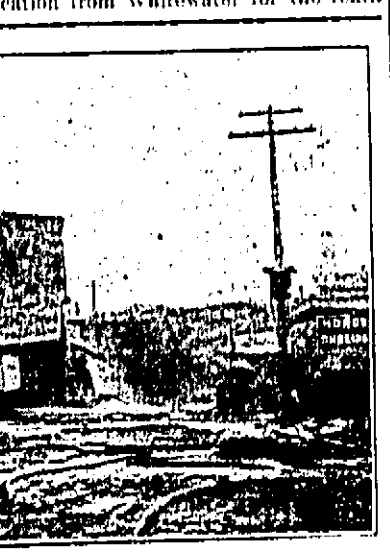

Suffrage Meeting.
On Thursday afternoon of this week, at four o'clock a meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. P. Lovelock, 220 St. Lawrence avenue, for the purpose of woman suffrage.

The gathering will be open to all ladies who are interested in the subject, whether for or against equal political rights with the men, and all women have been invited to attend.

Geo. S. Blunt Receives Position of Krause Transferred on Northern Wisconsin Division.

The bulletin board this morning contained a circular letter announcing a change in officials which took place April 1. Geo. S. Blunt is appointed Division Accountant of the Northern Wisconsin Division with headquarters at North Fond du Lac, Wis. Vice Mr. C. W. Krause, transferred to another position. The letter is signed C. H. Westbrook auditor disbursing accounts.

Car clerk William McDonald disappeared last night and has not been seen since. Down town caller William was on the job however and surprised his many friends by again routing them out of bed as before to take out trains. Upon investigation it came out that the position of car clerk had been abolished and as a result Mr. McDonald was forced to bump Edward Sullivan from the caller's job. William says that the caller's job is just like home to him as he always has some place to go to work to, and as long as he can't be a president's son and have a private car the present job is all right. Edward Sullivan put in an appearance at the round house this morning and spent the day splitting rails for Whitebread on the trip track.

DAN McCARTY

Eddie McGorty of Oshkosh, Wis., is being touted by many critics as the one best bet in the middleweight division. The next few months will tell the tale for the Wisconsin lad. If successful in cleaning up the slugs here in the United States he is looked to take on the little eighteen-year-old French lad who has proven the best of all abroad, George Carpenter. There is a question about Carpenter. He has been growing so steadily that hopes are entertained that before he reaches his majority he will have taken on at least twenty and perhaps thirty pounds, making him a real hope.

But should the brilliant French boy stay where he is in weight or somewhere near it for the next six months and all goes well on this side with McGorty, we'll have an international battle that should be a real hammer and doubtless will attract more interest than any other encounter since the Reno affair of 1910.

There are really but two contenders in the path of McGorty at the present time. One is Frank Klus, the Pittsburgh man, who is trying to make up his mind in San Francisco and incidentally in mending a couple of needed-up hands out there, and the winner of the elimination trials in Los Angeles. From this distance it looks as if the winner of this peek of trouble cannot help but be Howard Morrow, the Benton Harbor boy, who will make his initial appearance there next Saturday afternoon with Bert Pagen as an opponent.

Carpenter may get a return match on with Jim Sullivan, the English champion he trimmed in Monte Carlo the other afternoon, this time for a side wager of $5,000. Sullivan now lays his defeat to the fact that he loafed out of the ring too much before the fight. He claims he should have had a couple of clipping good battles under his belt before he took on the tough Frenchman. As a result of remaining idle too long, his judgment of distance was bad, and he found himself entirely at sea when he faced the sprightly young Parisian, who proceeded to faint rings around him and then smash him into a heap with a couple of welts on ribs and jaw.

English critics who want to the principle to see the downfall of their champion are still loud in their praise for the Parisian boy's work, and unqualifiedly pronounce him one of the world's greatest boxers.

Howard Cannizz, the star pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has a special brand of dope for pitchers which will be new to many of the twirlers. It has to do with the brain end of a flinger's equipment, and is Cannizz's way of studying the batsmen.

"A great many ball players devour the newspaper stories of the games," says Cannizz, "showing particular interest in the descriptive matter, and overlooking the importance of the box scores. That's where, in my judgment, a big mistake is made, particularly by pitchers and catchers. I make it an invariable rule to study the box scores, not only of the games in which the Pirates participate, but of all the games. I always inspect very closely the box score of the club we are to meet next. My object is to ascertain what players are doing the hitting."

BEGIN PENNANT RACE IN INTERNATIONAL

Season Will Be Opened Tomorrow With Games in Baltimore, Providence And Jersey City.

(Special to the Gazette.)

New York, April 17.—The International League, formerly the Eastern League, will begin its race for the championship tomorrow with games in Baltimore, Providence, Newark and Jersey City. The champion Rochester team is programmed as the opponents of Paul Lake's players at Providence, while Baltimore will have the Montreal team as its guests. Buffalo will play in Newark and Toronto in Jersey City. The clubs appear to be more evenly matched this year than last, with all of the managers optimistic about their chances for the pennant. The league will play a season of 154 games, closing Sept. 22. Providence, Montreal and Jersey City have changed managers since last season. Fred Lake will pilot the Providence team. Billy Lush, the old Cleveland player and Yale coach, has charge of Montreal, and Larry Schaffy, former Washington player, is the new manager of the Jersey City team.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Pitcher "The" Drottenshtein, the former St. Louis-Cincinnati "10,000 beauty," is now pitching in the Southern League.

The National League teams played three rounds of the American League teams during the Spring inter-league series.

Manager Charlie Doan, of the Phillies believes that Pitcher Masterson, a young recruit, will develop into another Alexander.

The New York Giants will be the attraction at Cincinnati when Gary Herrmann's new baseball park is formally dedicated on May 18.

Arthur T. Sheehan is the youngest business manager in the big leagues. At the age of 23 Arthur is looking after all the coin gathered by the Detroit Tigers.

It is said the Cubs are angling for Bob Fisher, Joe McGinnity's star sacker. Chance wants Fisher in order to plug up the infield in case Evers fails to "come back."

The circuit of the new Upper Peninsula-Wisconsin League will be composed of Menominee, Escanaba, and Gladstone, Mich., and Marquette, Wis. The season will open May 18 and close Sept. 18.

John Franklin Baker, of the Athletics, should be a great drawing card this season. His home-run during the world's series last fall will be worth more than four dollars to Connie Mack.

It was in 1901 that Fred Clarke shifted Hans Wagner from right field to short, and Fred certainly showed that he was there with the manager. In 1902 when he switched Herr Honus.

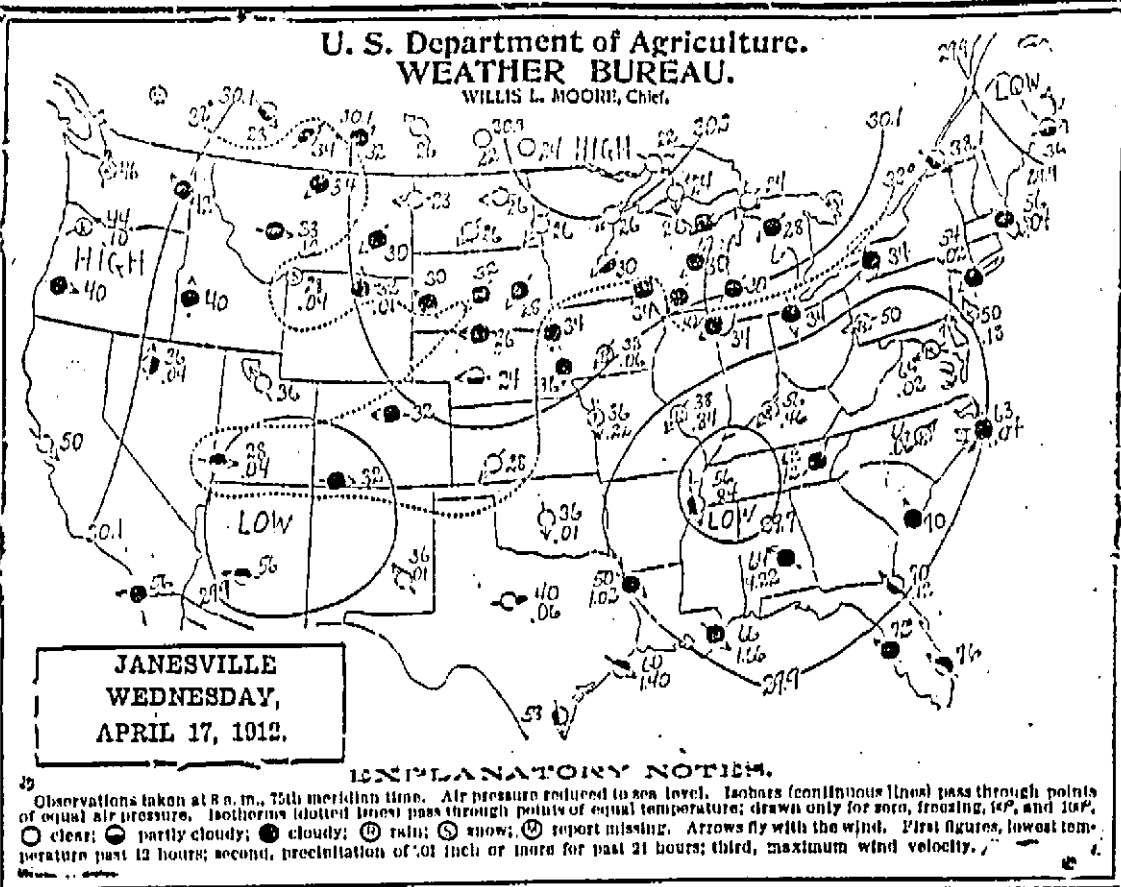

The Brooklyn fans hate Jake Daubert like John Doe hates money. The Superba followers claim that Jake has it on the first basemen, not excepting the great Hal Chase of the Highlanders.

The Detroit crew seems to be well fixed in all positions except left field. From all accounts Jennings is up against the same riddle that nearly drove him to the Paddy works last season.

Pitcher George Pierce has joined the Cubs, the Chicago team being the fourth major league team to have been connected with. During the past two years he has been tried out by the Giants and both Boston teams.

Thirty Indianapolis boys will perform in the major and minor leagues this season. Owen Bush and Paddy Bauman with Detroit and "Dutch" Miller with Brooklyn, represent the Hoosier capital in the big show.

IS PREPARING OPINION IN FOREST COUNTY CASE.

Commissioner Lehner Speaks in Favor of District Attorney Charged With Malfeasance in Office.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., April 17.—Philip Lehner, commissioner, has completed the taking of testimony at Crandon, and is now at the governor's office in the capitol engaged in drafting his opinion in the case brought against District Attorney John P. Hooper of Forest county for malfeasance in office. On two of the charges brought against Hooper, Commissioner Lehner from the bench spoke in Hooper's favor.

The petitioners were represented by District Attorney A. M. Andrews of Shawano county and Samuel Shaw of Crandon, a former district attorney of Forest county. Throughout the hearing the courtroom was packed. District Attorney Hooper testified in his own behalf, being on the stand over half a day. At the close of the testimony the case was argued and thereafter Commissioner Lehner directed the attorneys to file briefs on three points. He delivered his opinion immediately on two of the charges, in both of which he held that Hooper not only was not guilty of malfeasance in office but that he had acted with most commendable diligence. In his opinion on the Kennard charge, in which Hooper was accused of shielding a man who was recently sentenced to prison for forgery, Commissioner Lehner, speaking from the bench, said:

"The keen situation brought about in this community by the Kennard defections probably did more than anything else to bring on this crisis. After a careful consideration of all the testimony offered on this charge, I am convinced beyond any question that District Attorney Hooper showed the greatest diligence and efficiency."

THE AMENITIES OF SHAKESPEAREAN CRITICISM.

E. H. Sothern, who appears here with Miss Julia Marlowe at Myers Theatre on Wednesday evening April 17, in "The Taming of the Shrew," says that very often the critic, unable to treat the plays of Shakespeare with dignity, which, of course, presupposes a certain degree of lovable sympathy, is prone to indulge in a few lively flashes of frivolity.

"When the Amenities of Criticism come to be written," says Mr. Sothern, "the section devoted to Shakespeare will have many scintillating pages. It is commonly supposed to be difficult to 'expose what is good'; but this does not apply to the Bard's plays. It is very easy to belittle what is great. Shakespeare is a shining mark, and the actor who appears in one of his plays—is an easy target to hit. So it is that when some critics go to see one of the plays they become flippant as a court equivoque in an old comedy.

"And it may as well be admitted that some of them have done very well. You can enjoy some of their persiflage, and laugh to dissection, providing of course, you are not the object of attack. Then it is different. St. Lawrence may have enjoyed the grid-iron, but he never boasted about it. Grilling may be good for meats, and chops, but it is a mighty uncomfortable proceeding for actors. We actors are notoriously in profound sympathy with ourselves.

"Voltaire wrote of Hamlet that it was a coarse and barbarous piece, which would not be tolerated by the long been a question as to whether Bacon or Shakespeare was the author of the plays. It can now be definitely ascertained. Let the gravest of both be opened. He who shall be found to have turned in his grave is the one who wrote Hamlet."

"When George Ade was the critic of the Lafayette, Indiana, Morning Journal, a stock company presented Hamlet at the Grand Opera House. Mr. Ade wrote next morning:

"Company good; play bad."

"The acting camp produces some weird and wonderful criticisms. Here is a fair sample, Hamlet being the play."

"There is too much churning in this piece. The author is behind the times, and seems to forget that what we want nowadays is hair-raising situations and detectives.

"In the hands of a skilful playwright a detective would have been put on the track of Hamlet's uncle, and the old man would have been hunted down in the manner that would have lifted the audience out of their cushions.

"Our advice to the author is more action, more love-making and plenty of specialties. The crazy girl scene should be cut out altogether and a rattling good song and a dance substituted."

"If the critic can be facetious with Shakespeare, let the actor beware that he does not cross swords with him. If he thinks your performance a mistake in all its parts, do not tell him wherein he's wrong. Correct not his errors. It is better to let him wallow in them than submit to a all the high shoulders and high noses of the nation, the top of the fashion. And when Richard was lately presented at Bedford, Indiana, one of the papers said:

"The Embassy Dramatic Company played Richard the Third at the Opera House last night and they killed Richard in the second act so that they could catch an early train out of town."

Addison, above referred to, invented a particular sort of criticism that is not, fortunately, in use nowadays. Dennis and Addison were in a perpetual feud as to Shakespeare. In one of the Spectators he quoted a couple of lines from a translation of Bolleau made by Dennis which he called humorous. It was impossible to tell whether he considered Dennis a dunce or a wise man. A brother of George Augustus Sala, Charles Kerrison Sala, who wrote under the pseudonym of 'Wynn,' hit upon this passage in the Spectator, and out of it invented a comparatively safe method of defamation for the use of theatrical critics. It consisted in an ambiguous employment of the pronoun 'he,' so presented that it might be considered applicable either to a certain character—the construction leading itself rather to the latter view."

"The First Common Council of the city of Janesville, was elected in 1855, and A. Hyatt Smith, was elected the first mayor. The first ward was represented in the Council by B. E. Pixley, E. L. Roberts, and W. P. Burroughs; the Second ward by John J. R. Pease, Timothy Jackman, and George Barnes; the Third ward by Elmer Howard, H. B. Eldridge and Charles J. FIRST COUNCILMAN SON FIRST ALDERMAN

Ira Millmore, Father of Councilman Chancey K. Millmore, One of First Aldermen in Fifth Ward.

Chancey K. Millmore, who yesterday became one of the first two Councilmen to hold office in Janesville under the commission form of government in the son of Ira Millmore, one of the first Aldermen elected from the old Fifth ward, thus establishing a direct historical beginning of the old and the new in the city government of Janesville. But the interesting coincidence does not stop here.

As the son yesterday drew lots with his fellow Councilmen to determine who would have the four and whom the two year term, his father fifty-five years ago drew lots to decide whether he would receive the office of Alderman, being tied for the election with his opponent. The other Aldermen from the Fifth ward elected at that time were Thomas Thornton and William Hughes.

The first Common Council of the city of Janesville, was elected in 1855, and A. Hyatt Smith, was elected the first mayor. The first ward was represented in the Council by B. E. Pixley, E. L. William Harrity Dies at Home Near Philadelphia After Short Illness.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Philadelphia, April 17.—William F. Harrity, former chairman of the democratic national committee, and once powerful in national democratic councils, died today at his home in Overbrook, a suburb after an illness of a few days. He was 62 years old. Mr. Harrity had been in failing health for several years but was at his law office as late as last Saturday. Mr. Harrity was a director in many local financial institutions. He achieved fame as the manager of the campaign of Grover Cleveland in 1892, being given much credit for the democratic success of that year. Mr. Harrity withdrew largely from active participation in politics in 1894 after the nomination of W. J. Bryan for the presidency.

lowest rabble of France and Italy; hardly an amenity, you will probably say. But if anybody thinks that Shakespeare has not been scourged even by fellow Englishmen, let him read the works of Thomas Rymer, John Dennis, Aaron Hill and John Gifford. The first of these was the most vindictive and likewise the most amusing. One of his pleasantest was to the following effect: "There is not a monkey but understands nature better; not a pig in Barbary that has not a truer taste of things."

"It may as well be admitted that these worthless kindles as hot a war as that of the Gibbeline of Italy, or even the big and little Indians of Laliput.

Forgetting the frolicsome Shakespearean performances of Bernard Shaw, it may as well be admitted that the Bard, even in our day, is now and again placed on the end of a yoke. Cecil Raleigh, a worthy dramatist, facetiously remarked at the O. P. Club dinner, London, March, 1903:

"Theodore Tilton has given London a most remarkable series of plays, with only an occasionally regrettable lapse into Shakespeare. The infatigable Max Beerholm once remarked: 'You see, we think it was enough honor to have bred Shakespeare; we don't have to read him.'

"There is no play by Shakespeare that has been so much the occasion of mirth as Hamlet. Lately, the play was presented by a company in Indiana. The paper next day said:

"Hamlet was produced at the Opera House last night. It was worse than expected."

"An Austin, Texas, newspaper, under the heading: Current News Items, printed the following:

"Hamlet in Langtry, lasting twenty-eight minutes."

"Hamlet in Langtry, lasting ten minutes."

"Windstorm in Houston, two hours."

"Barnstormers, in Hamlet, at Austin, one night."

Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier Journal, once criticized a performance of Hamlet. He wrote as follows:

"Hamlet at the Marauder Opera House last night. My God said the woodcock and it flew away."

cuddling. There was once a critic who was laboring under some curiously ornate notions in regard to Hamlet. I made brave to correct him. His reply was most ingenious, amiable and timely. He said, among other things:

"We have long admired Mr. Sothern's legs."

"We have seen him make every chambermaid in the dress circle break goodnight."

"Not even Laura Jean Libby herself ever threw a gulp into a crowd as suddenly as he does."

"Mr. Sothern knows all the philosophy of pulch."

"This is what one gets for trying to throw light into dark places."

"Next to Hamlet, Richard the Third has been most profile in humorous things. In New Orleans, some time ago, one of the papers chronicled the presentation of Richard and topped it with a glaring near-head, reading:

"MANY LIVES LOST."

"Joseph Addison, in 1711, said that Richard the Third was so popular that it made all the high backs,

WISCONSIN SEEDS ARE IN GREAT DEMAND NOW

Madison, Wis., April 17.—Growers of pure-bred Wisconsin seeds are unable to supply the unprecedented demand coming from all over the world. The failure of the seed corn in other states and the fame of the Wisconsin types have combined to bring orders that have literally swamped the growers. At the Agricultural Experiment station here orders are being turned down daily. The ranks of the pure seed corn growers have been increased by 22,000 young men in many counties of the state who are now in corn-growing contests under the auspices of the Experiment association, who now make a specialty of breeding and selling pure seeds. They have solicited orders for their products, and early this year found the demand too great for the supply. They secured such good prices that they were tempted to sell too much of their stock. Now there is not enough left for sale to home farmers. One Wisconsin seed-grower, H. E. Krueger, of Beaver Dam, has sold over $18,000 worth this year, and others are said to have done better still.

The Wisconsin college of agriculture has recently shipped Wisconsin pure-bred seed to twenty-eight states of the union, and made three shipments to England and two to Canada.

Enough pedigree barley will be grown in Wisconsin this year, said Prof. A. R. Moore, to cover the entire barley acreage of the United States, and next year with this dissemination there will be enough grown in this state to cover the pedigree barley acreage of the world.

Wisconsin grows approximately 30,000,000 bushels of barley annually, the larger part of which is sold upon the market as a ready money crop, either for feeding or malting purposes. Scores of youths who came to the state agricultural college seven and ten years ago are now raising pure-bred seeds on their own farms and clearing from $7,000 to $10,000 per year from their sale, declared Prof. Moore. No stronger argument for keeping the boys on the farms need be used than this which touches the commercial side of life, he says.

During the past three years the Wisconsin pedigree barleys have carried off first honors at the national shows.

MOVEMENT TO AMEND LAW ON TEACHERS' PENSIONS

Training and Normal School Teachers Would Be Included Under the Act.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., April 17.—A movement has begun a united effort to amend the Wisconsin law regarding teachers' pensions to include teachers in the training and normal schools. It is claimed that these institutions are properly a part of the public school system and that their teachers should have the same pension benefits granted to other public school teachers. Members of the faculty of the university may receive benefits from the Carnegie Foundation fund.

Principal Bowman of the Dunn County Normal Training school, and President J. W. Crabtree of the River Falls State Normal school are urging this change among the county training schools and state normals. At River Falls there are three or more teachers who have taught in the schools of Wisconsin over twenty-five years, who are capable of several years' efficient service but who by long and faithful service in the state merit the advantages of the pension law when they desire to retire.

California Sunday Schools.

Chico, Cal., April 17.—With Sunday school workers present from all over the state, the forty-fifth annual convention of the California Sunday School association assembled today for a session of three days. ALL HOPE CENTERED ON THE CARPATHIA AND SURVIVORS searchers on board the unfortunate Titanic faced another day of heart-breaking apprehension and uncertainty as they gathered in a dismal number at the White Star Line offices this morning and all through the night a group of persons awaited in the White Star Company room and outside on the sidewalk in front of the building for additional names to the list of survivors known.

Hope Vanishes.
London, April 16.—The hope that the list of survivors of the sunken Titanic would be added to has practically been given up. The offices of the White Star Line in London, Southampton and Liverpool were again besieged this morning by throngs of anxious inquirers. Some of those who had relatives on board remained at the offices throughout the night scanning the list which, however, proved not to contain only first names and merely corrections of those given out before.

Many Women.
Those who besieged the offices were mostly women whose husbands or fathers had started for America on business or to make new homes for their families.

None on Coast.
Early this morning the White Star officials gave out the statement that they had received a report from the Olympic that the Virginian and Parkman neither one had survivors on board and expressing belief that all those who had been rescued were on board the Carpathia.

UNVEILS STATUE TO MEMORY OF SAILOR

John Paul Jones Memorial in the New Potomac Park at WASHINGTON.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Washington, April 17.—The unveiling of the statue of John Paul Jones in Potomac Park here today brought to a close a movement begun several years ago to provide some appropriate testimonial to the memory of the great naval hero. It started when a wave of public interest was excited by the discovery in France and removal to America of the remains of the early sea fighter. Much difficulty was experienced in selecting a design for the memorial from the large number of models submitted by famous sculptors. The choice finally fell upon the design offered by Charles H. Niehaus, of New York, for a statue. A setting for the statue included a fountain, pylon and approaches, the whole work costing $50,000.

The memorial is located on the northwest shore of the Tidal Basin in Potomac Park, at the foot of 17th street not far from the White House, the Pan American Union building, the Home of the Daughters of the American Revolution and other beautiful buildings. It is the first statue to be erected within the limits of the new Potomac Park, and is also the first purely naval monument to be placed in this city since that unveiled in memory of Admiral Dupont in 1881.

The Jones memorial differs in many respects from other similar structures in the National Capital. It consists of a marble pylon of classic design as the background for a colossal figure of the intrepid naval commander of the early days of the republic. The pylon is a massive rectangular tower about 15 feet in height. It occupies the center of an ornamental fountain, water for which is supplied from the bronze heads of dolphins, on each side of the pylon.

The statue of John Paul Jones stands at the base of the monument in front of the pedestal. It is of heroic proportions, being about ten feet high. The great naval commander is shown in full uniform, with an expression and pose suggestive of his indomitable will and unconquerable spirit. He has been modeled as though watching a naval engagement. His right hand is clenched and his left hand clenches a sword. As the sculptor put it, "Here is the representation of a man capable of doing almost anything, and not simply a man who can do only one thing."

There are several appropriate inscriptions on the memorial, suggested by Rep. Lemuel P. Padgett of Tenn., chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, and approved by the Jones Memorial Commission, consisting of the Secretaries of War and Navy and the Chairman of the Congressional Committee on Library. Under the statue is inscribed:

"1747 1792."
First
To compel foreign men-of-war to strike colors to the Stars and

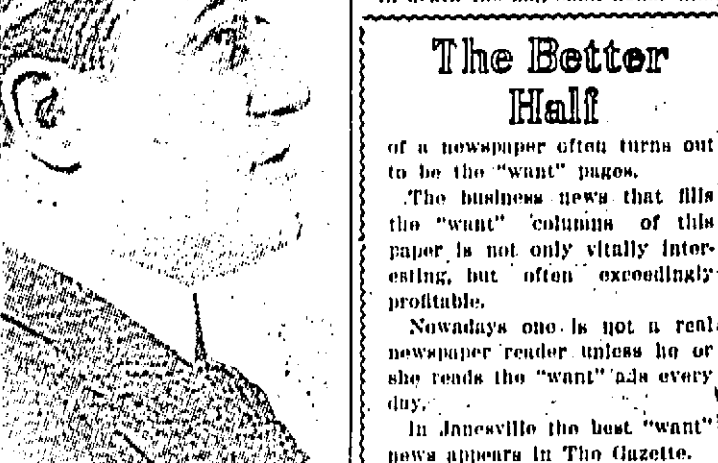

"Some class to this door mat!"

There are two inscriptions on the rear of the pylon. One of these is on the stone forming the cap of the shaft. It embodies the language popularly attributed to Commodore Jones when called upon by the commander of the British frigate Scraper to surrender the battered American ship Bonhomme Richard. The inscription is arranged in two lines, and without quotation marks, as follows:

—Surrender?—
I have not yet begun to fight.

The other inscription is just below the base relief representing Commodore Jones raising the United States flag for the first time on an American warship. It reads:
In life he honored the flag
In death the flag shall honor him.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

DURING a recent big strike, one of the favorite comments of the bystanders was a criticism of the policy of the labor leaders. "They lash on the workmen," said the critics; "they talk to them about their wrongs and work them all up until they get unreasonable and hurt their own cause."

How much of that accusation is true, I don't know. I hope very little, for if there could be any manner act than to misguide and mislead these poor folks in their struggle for betterment, and to exploit them for personal gain, I cannot conceive of it. But this is not a talk on strikes or labor leaders.

What I want to bring home to you is this—how often you and I treat ourselves, as the labor leaders are said to treat the workmen.

Suppose that your good friend has said something to you which seemed unjust, and your friendly feeling for her has gone on strike, what does your reason, the tender, as it were, of your whole being, do? Does it tell the part of you which feels aggrieved and resentful that perhaps your friend did not mean that remark in quite the sense you are inclined to take it; that she had some good grounds for speaking as she did; that you have often criticized her as harshly; that probably she spoke hastily and in sorrow now, just as you have often been; and that she has shown forbearance towards you a great many times.

Or, does your reason lash you on? Does it remind you that your friend is very ready to find fault with you lately? Does it suggest to you that since she has been so much about you? Does it distort her speech into its worst possible meaning? In short, does it altogether encourage you in your determination to "get back at her" in some way or other?

If it does, are you any better than the labor leaders who lash on their followers by magnifying their wrongs and ignoring their rights?

The man who promulgated the famous Browder and Sulphide theory says that everybody has some classification of the people in the world. "There is the lover's division of all women into two classes—'Daisy' and the 'Other Kind'—and the fastidious person's classification—'There are two kinds of persons—those who like olives and those who don't.' I think my favorite classification is—the people who reason with themselves and the people who never do.

Which kind are you?

Dinner Stories

The aged motor car was somehow always getting out of repair, and it usually indulged in a little breakdown about once a week, in order to vary an otherwise monotonous existence.

Slowly it snorted its way into the broad stream of traffic, when there was a sudden whirling of wheels, a loud snap, and the weary and worn framework came to a stop.

"Look here," said the policeman to the driver, "this kind of thing is occurring too often. Let's see, what's your number? Yes, 15887."

"Do not," said the precocious youth who was in charge of the car, "immediately behind. That ain't its number. That's the year it was built."

Prof. Robert Horrick, discussing the "double entendre" at the University of Chicago, cited an example of this figure from the Chicago law courts.

"There is a court error," he said, "who failed to turn up at the usual hour one morning. He sent the judge, instead, a note, and this note contained a very remarkable 'double enter," he read: "Dear Judge—My wife's mother died last evening. Hence I will be unable to cry today."

A Chicago broker was praising the wit of Thomas Fortune Ryan.

"Mr. Ryan and a socialist once engaged in a war of wits at the Union Club in New York over their lunch," the broker said, "Mr. Ryan got the best of it."

"The worsted socialist lost his temper a little at the end, and as he rose to go he sneered:

"They told me in Ireland once that all the Ryans were rogues."

"It may well be," said Mr. Ryan, smiling, "that all the Ryans are rogues; but it is equally true that all the rogues are not Ryans."

"I beg pardon," said the reporter, "but are you Mr. Rynde, the Potato King?"

"Yes, but I don't like that term," replied the merry man, testily. "Old kings and cattle kings and like are so common. Call me the potato-entente."

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a girl of seventeen for about six months, and as her aunt does not like my religious views, she is inclined to disapprove. Would you advise me to continue my efforts and how can I best win her aunt's heart?

Wait until the girl is old enough to decide such questions for herself.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you please suggest a name for a club of five Protestant fellows? BUNCE.

Send me an addressed, stamped envelope telling me the purpose of your club and more about it, and I will try to help you with a name.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Will a mixture of flour and salt clean white plumage? (2) How can I clean them at home? (3) How can they be curled with a dull knife? READER.

(1) A milliner suggests this method of cleaning plumage: Wash in mixture of one-half cup borax, one-half cup cornstarch and one pint warm water. Rinse in clear gasoline. (2) To curl with a knife, draw the fibres separately or in clusters of two or three between the thumb and the edge of the knife, being careful not to cut or break them.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Should a baby be given a bath every day until he is a year old? (2) My baby is eight months old and is just becoming to creep. He dresses interestingly to me. Is he too young for rompers? And if not what style would be best for a baby his age? MRS. T. T. R.

(1) There is no age at which the daily bath of the child should be discontinued. It is a most important factor in health and should be kept up always. I think the best time for the bath is just before the baby's morning feeding and nap, which is usually about 10 o'clock. He sleeps better after this complete refreshment. (2) Babies can be put in rompers at the age of six months. Those that button across the bottom from knee to knee are best for babies. These can be bought in sizes from six months to two years.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a boy fourteen years old and would Wash asparagus, scrape it lightly, break off the crisp part and drop it in boiling water to cook about twenty minutes or until tender. The tougher portion of the stalk can be used for a soup and old asparagus that has grown slowly in also better used in this way.

The water in which asparagus is cooked should not be thrown away but should be reduced by cooking longer. It can then be used to pour over, toast, as a foundation for a sauce to pour over the vegetable or in making a cream of asparagus.

An asparagus salad is one of the best. Cook the tender part of the stalks until tender, drain carefully without breaking and set away to chill. Dress the salad with a simple French dressing or it may stand half an hour after sprinkling with a little of the dressing and afterwards be served with mayonnaise or with a good salad dressing.

For a cream of asparagus cook one bunch of asparagus cut in pieces until tender in 4 cups of boiling water with one level teaspoon of salt added. Take out the tips as soon as tender and reserve for a garnish. Let the water reduce one-half then press both vegetable and liquid through a strainer. Make a thin white sauce with two cups of milk, two level teaspoons each of butter and flour and cook ten minutes in a double boiler. Add the sifted pulp, reheat, add pepper and more salt as needed. Serve with the tender tips scattered over the top.

To serve asparagus in a sauce cook it until tender and reduce the liquid to one cup. For the sauce use this liquid, two level tablespoons each of flour and butter, a level teaspoon of sugar, and one quarter as much salt.

Add three cups of the cooked asparagus cut into inch pieces, the yolks of two eggs beaten with four tablespoons of cream. When the mixture is thick add a rounding tablespoon of butter cut in bits and as soon as it melts serve the asparagus.

Use the same sauce with asparagus cut fine as a filling for patties.

THE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

On one's wedding anniversary is a good occasion to entertain the choice friends, a time to return the hospitality of friends.

The first year is the paper anniversary and nothing daintier or more appropriate can be imagined than the paper novelties which may so easily be made at home.

The table may be bare, with the dainty little paper lace doilies for each place, a centerpiece of paper flowers and candle shades of paper. Boxes or roses of paper to hold nuts or hot loaves.

The rooms may be decorated with paper garlands, paper ribbons, lanterns and Chinese screens.

A box of home-made candy in a pretty box covered with wall paper in neat design would make pretty favors for each guest.

Decorating paper caps might be worn by the ladies and paper contests or guessing games a feature of the entertainment.

If the company is a large one, the refreshments might be served in boxes holding enough for two. Paper napkins and ice cream served in paper boxes on plates covered with lace paper doilies.

Theresa Punch.—Take half a teaspoonful of powdered gelatin, half a cup of freshly infused tea, two cups of sugar, the juice of five oranges, one thinly sliced orange, one can of shredded pineapple, a few bananas, cherries, grapes and a pint bottle of sparkling water added several times during the serving.

Roll the sugar and water together for ten minutes, cool, add the gelatin and other ingredients. Serve with ice in the punch bowl.

Princess Cakes.—Cream four tablespoons of butter, add four tablespoons of sugar and two eggs well beaten, three tablespoons of cornstarch, a half teaspoonful of baking powder and a half teaspoonful of lemon extract. Mix well and bake in gem pans about fifteen minutes.

Second Actor—What?

Too Ready With His Excuse.

A man wrote to a friend in Greece, begging him to purchase books. From negligence or avarice, he neglected to execute the commission; but, fearing that his correspondent might be offended, he exclaimed when next they met: "My friend, I never got the letter you wrote to me about the books."

A FESTIVE OCCASION FOR TWILIGHT CLUB

ANNUAL LADIES' NIGHT BANQUET LAST EVENING DE-LIGHTFULLY CLOSED A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

TOPICS OF IMPORTANCE

Serve Chiefly as Texts for Speakers Who All Seemed Humorously Inclined—Club to Continue City Beautiful Work.

With festivities which were complete in every way, including a finely appointed banquet and a program of a most entertaining character, the Twilight Club closed its sixteenth successful year with the ladies' night banquet at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of the following members: Otto A. Oestrich, J. C. Hazen, P. C. Grant, H. R. Powell, and Charles Wehrick. Their work covered every detail of the affair from the plans for the banquet to the securing of the speakers on the program.

Promptly at seven o'clock the club members and their guests took their places at four long tables extending the entire length of the auditorium. Banquets of pink roses and evergreen plants added charm to the appearance of the banquet board and electric lights reflected by varicolored shades were strikingly effective.

Music throughout the banquet hour was furnished by the Baptist orchestra which was partially hidden behind the palms and ferns on the raised platform at the end of the room. The musicians were by no means sparing in the number of selections which they rendered most delightfully and which were received with a flattering amount of applause.

At each place was an artistic program giving the menu and the program for the evening. Numerous quotations from the works of Eugene Field were used in appropriate places on the program, on the title page, beginning and closing the menu card, and following the name of each person on the program.

The menu served in faultless style by a corps of young ladies and gentlemen, was as follows:

Menu
A table dote is different from order's after eat.
In one case you get all there is, in other only part.

"No windup" was cake or pie, with coffee demy tass, or, sometimes, floatin' Ireland in a southerly kind of way.

That left a sort of pleasant flick in a feller's throat.

"No undo him banker after more of Casey's table dote."

The Rev. J. W. Laughlin, as leader of the meeting, called for matters of business to come before the club.

P. C. Grant, member of the committee appointed at the last meeting to advocate the proposition of another home beautiful contest this year, offered a report. He stated that the committee had agreed that the plan as adopted last season should again be carried out, and he made a motion in the effect that the treasurer of the club pay to the committee $25 as an incentive to the school children in the home beautiful contest. It was also included in the motion that the committee be authorized by the chairman to such a number as he saw fit. This motion was passed unanimously.

The original committee was composed of J. P. Worlandyke, chairman, George Kimball, H. J. Hart, P. C. Grant, and M. P. Richardson.

In extending a hearty welcome to the ladies who were honored guests of the club, Mr. Laughlin stated that the occasion was the event of the year for the Twilight club. The members looked forward to the affair with anticipation and elaborate plans were made accordingly. This year, he stated, the arrangement committee had offered a departure in the way of the program as the various topics were of a more serious and important nature than was the usual custom. There was no reflection on the intelligence of the guests in the topics which were to be presented and the subjects would be treated in a manner showing how great men approach the problems of the country.

Mr. Laughlin was slightly nervous at first, but he soon became at ease and his remarks were well received.

Physicians Have Great Success With Tonic in This Country.

When people of wealth become debilitated and run down in health they go to high priced sanitariums and health resorts to be built up again. But what about the thousands of debilitated nervous men and women who have the time nor money to spare for such luxuries as sanitariums? If you are in this miserable condition read with care the following statement by M. F. Mann, living at 53 Good Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have had indigestion and been all run down for ten years. I couldn't eat anything at times and was always constipated. My nerves were out of order and I had bad headaches. I believed I had kidney trouble, too, as I had dull pains in my back much of the time. I was easily excited and often when I couldn't eat and had a nervous attack I would suffer severe dizzy spells.

"I heard so much about the new tonic 'Tona Vita' that I decided to give it a trial and I feel like a different man. I am strong in every way. I sleep well, can eat anything and my nerves are as steady as can be. I have gained four pounds in the last ten days. I believe 'Tona Vita' is the best medicine on earth."

"Tona Vita was introduced in this country by a number of physicians scarcely a year ago. The tonic has proved the biggest success of any medicine ever before sold to the public."

ONE HUNDRED COUPLE AT O. E. S. BALL

Annual Dancing Party of Eastern Star Pronounced Success—Assembly Hall Beautifully Decorated.

Couples numbering over one hundred attended the annual ball of the Order of the Eastern Star, given at Assembly hall last evening. The decorations were especially pleasing, the scheme embracing overhead festooning and a cozy corner fitted up at one end of the hall.

Dance music was played by the local orchestra of this city, and their xylophone player again made a hit with his solo. Sherborn punch was served between dance numbers at one end of the hall. Those present thoroughly enjoyed the evening, and most of them were on the floor until the last number was played at one o'clock.

Miss Anna H. Day, who was to have spoken on "The Peace Conference," was unable to attend and the second number on the program was given by Andrew Gibbons on "A Menace to Civilization."

What that menace really was was hardly made clear unless it was the automobile as some reference was made to the probable result of this modern mechanism on the human race. Future auto owners, he said, according to the prediction of a friend, would be divided into two classes—those possessed of various qualities and those who are not. Concluding in his talk Mr. Gibbons started on an amusing story about a woman suspended between the ship and the shore, but was interrupted by a chorus singing popular songs and Mr. Gibbons hurriedly sat down and the rest of his time was given over to the music as previously arranged.

Miss Julia Lovejoy declared at the opening of her talk that she might paraphrase the subject, "The Awakening of the Public Conscience," not "Votes for Women," but "Votes for Men."

She proceeded to outline the case of a delegation of women voters from the planet Mars, explaining that only women vote in Mars, investigating the conditions of the terrestrial sphere with the view to reporting whether men had made a success of voting on this world. This situation gave an opportunity for some pointed remarks in reference to the suffrage question. The conclusion was that there is no one-half of the population which is so good or wise enough to run things entirely and so the cry should be, not votes for women or votes for men, but equal suffrage for all.

W. S. Jeffries in his talk on "The Burial of the Maine" really let out the secret of the arrangements committee. If the thing might be enmeshed in a secret, Mr. Jeffries said that after numerous attempts on his part to be excused or to find excuses for not appearing on the program, after the committee had informed him his subject would be "Conservation," they told him he was to speak on "The Burial of the Maine." He protested ignorance of this topic and of funeral in general, and was quite surprised to be informed that he wasn't expected to follow the topic, but to talk on "any old thing, especially the women."

He found this departure or "progression," from the topic on the program a field for the speculation and indulged in some clever sarcasm and ratiocination at the expense of the women, all of which was, of course, good natured, and in the end reflected to the credit of the fairer sex.

Joseph H. Humphrey was the closing speaker on the program and gave for topic, "Conservation," which he treated poetically, finding characteristics of the various members of the club which, in his estimation, should be conserved.

Music for the evening, in addition to that furnished by the Baptist orchestra and Mr. Gibbons' chorus, was most delightfully provided in the Local Male Quartette, which sang several selections.

Most housekeepers would prefer to keep the kitchen floor unpainted and "in the white," were it not for the labor of keeping such a floor in satisfactory condition. However, the work of scrubbing will be lightened and milk white floors can be easily attained by dissolving in each pailful of warm water a tablespoonful of Gold Dust washing powder. If scrubbed this way each week old stains that seem to be ground into the wood will soon disappear altogether. This is also excellent for scrubbing stone steps and woodwork.

Nut Cake

Simply Delicious
By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

In giving this recipe, Mrs. Hill believes it to be one of the best all-around cake recipes it has been her good fortune to make. The simplicity and uniformly good results will appeal to every housewife.

K C Nut Cake.
One-half cup butter; 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar; 1/2 cup milk; 2 cups flour; 2 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder; 1 cup of nut meats chopped fine; whites of 4 eggs, beaten dry.

Sift flour and baking powder together, three times. Cream the butter, add the sugar, then alternately, the milk and the flour mixture; lastly the whites of eggs and the nut meats. Bake in a sheet in a shallow pan thirty or forty minutes. When cold cover with the icing and decorate with whole nut meats. This is also an excellent white cake recipe when nuts are omitted.

Chocolate Icing.
One cup granulated sugar; 1/2 ounce chocolate; white of 1 egg, beaten dry; 1/2 teaspoonful vanilla extract; 1/2 cup water.

Stir the sugar, chocolate and water until the mixture boils; cover and let boil three minutes. Uncover and let boil till when tested in cold water a soft ball may be formed; beat into the white of egg, then beat until cold, add vanilla.

The nut cannot be found given on page forty of the K C Cook's Book may be used in place of the chocolate (see page 44). A copy of the Cook's Book, handsomely illustrated in 9 colors, will be mailed free, if you will send the colored certificate packed in 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JANEVILLE STORE, Chicago.

AVOID MIXING MEAT AND FRUIT.

"A dinner made up of beef-steak and fruit, will in most cases result in decomposition in the place of digestion, owing to the fact that fruit has its field of digestion in the small intestine and thus must wait on its release from the stomach till the meat has been peptonized (which the fruit does not require). Thus suspended in a temperature of 97 degrees and in an alkaline medium, the delay means decomposition and putrefaction, not only of the fruit, but, in cases where the digestion is weak, of the entire meal. To reap the benefit of fruit,

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have cured thousands. Here is proof:

Mr. D. L. Ingalls, 220 Jackson St., Deloit, Wis., says: "I began using Doan's Kidney Pills about ten years ago and obtained the most satisfactory results. At that time I had an attack of backache, which clung to me persistently, and gradually grew worse. I finally found that my kidneys were weak and accordingly procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. In a short time the kidneys were restored to their normal condition and I felt like my old self again. Recently when my kidneys were disordered, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I again received the desired results. I hope that other sufferers of kidney complaint will give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

You can burn high priced anthracite if you wish to—but any kind of fuel, soft coal, slack, screenings, coke or wood—yields an immense, even, clean heat and helps you save fully one-half on your fuel bills if you buy a Holland.

WIRELESS STATION ON JACKMAN BLOCK BUILT BY YOUTH

Fred Wolff, Enthusiastic Amateur, Has Erected Receiving Set—Made Own Apparatus.

Pedestrians on Milwaukee street, who have let their eyes glance skyward during the last day or two, may have noticed two wooden masts with cross-arms carrying three spars of wire on the roof of the Jackman block. They are the aerials of a new wireless telegraph station now being constructed by Fred Wolff, an enthusiastic amateur and member of the Boy Scouts.

Wolff completed his receiving station yesterday and though he has not yet got it into as good condition as he hopes to, the instruments were given an encouraging trial last evening.

Unmistakable parts of the Morse code were heard in the receiver, but not distinct enough or sufficiently long continued to be understood. Within a short time Wolff hopes to have his sending equipment ready so that he can both send and receive messages.

There are at least five amateur wireless stations in successful operation at Deloit, besides the powerful one-kilowatt outfit on the Morgan farm and it is expected that regular communication can be maintained with them.

Wolff has made practically all his instruments himself. The aerial poles are twelve feet tall and carry "spreaders" eight feet across. The masts are one hundred feet apart and carry three spars of wire suspended from insulators. These were all erected by Wolff with the assistance of a Boy Scout friend, Alonzo Pond.

From the aerials a suspension wire, or "strut" leads into a "W" shaped frame in the third story of the Jackman block, the home of young Wolff. Here he has the receiving instruments, consisting of a tuning transformer, a mineral detector, and a 75 ohm resistance telephone receiver.

The tuning transformer, which was made by Wolff, is of the variable three point type, and is a duplicate of one at Deloit that picked up a message from a steamer off Cape Hatteras. The mineral detector and all the instruments except the condenser are the work of Wolff.

The instruments are grounded through the transformer.

The electric currents produced by the Herzlion waves as they reach the aerials are conducted to the transformer, thence to the mineral detector and in turn to the condenser and the telephone receiver.

The transformer brings into time electrical waves that come from the aerials. These, however, are so weak that they will not produce the thickest spark, and by passing them through the mineral detector they are changed from a rapidly alternating to a direct current.

The detector is merely a piece of some property related, placed firmly between adjustable electrical connections. "The condenser," which is interposed between detector and receiver, concentrates the flow of the current, making it more continuous and uninterrupted.

Wolff will improve the efficiency of his receiving equipment by substituting for his telephone receiver, one of 2,000 ohm resistance. He plans to make his sending station of one-quarter, or possibly one-half kilowatt capacity, and will make most of the parts for it himself. The transformer, which will take current from the electric lighting wires, will have to be purchased.

When You Place Money on Interest You Want

1—Security as Sure as a Government Bond.
2—Highest Possible Interest.
3—Certainty of Getting Your Money Quickly If Necessary.

Then You Want Our—

Municipal Bonds

THESE Bonds are pledges given by a city or Town or County securing the payment of money borrowed, and the interest on this money.

These pledges, or Bonds, pledge irrevocably to those persons lending the money, all the public property and all the private property; the full faith, credit and resources of that community.

They also convey to the holders of the Bonds a special Tax on all the public and private property of the community—this Tax is of the right amount to pay the interest each six months, and to set aside a certain part of the principal, so the full amount borrowed will be ready when the Bonds are due.

Our Municipal Bonds are Accepted by the U. S. Government as Security for the Deposits of Its Postal Savings Banks—That Fact Stamps Them as Safe as U. S. Government Bonds.

Our Municipal Bonds pay 5% and 5½% interest. We occasionally have a few that pay 6% interest—but such a rate of interest is very hard to find in combination with the absolute safety which meets the standard of Government Bonds.

Our Municipal Bonds can be readily turned into cash at any time—and this is a most important point for the consideration of anyone intending to invest a large or small sum.

We are issuing a gift booklet giving a clear and simple explanation of Municipal Bonds. We will be glad to present you with one. It will interest and be valued by your wife and son and daughter, as well as by yourself.

Its Effect Upon Her.
"O Maude!" exclaimed the young man, his eyes aflame and his voice vibrating with excess of emotion, "ever since I have known the meaning of the word love I have applied it to you, and you only! Your image is enshrined in the inmost recesses of my heart! With you by my side I could be happy on a desert island! Without you, paradise itself would be a howling wilderness! In every fiber of my being, with every breath I draw, every throb of my heart, I love—"

"I was at breakfast with him in the hotel one day when prices were going up their highest, and I noticed he put plenty of butter in his soft-boiled eggs."

We Don't Eat Dollars.
"A magazine writer declares that counterfeit food is worse than counterfeit money."

"No doubt that's true. The man who would make an imitation doughnut, it seems to me, would be ten times as mean as the man who merely made an imitation dollar."

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, April 17, 1872—The Apaches are improving the opportunity offered them by the suspension of the campaign against them in Arizona, by raiding settlers in all directions.

Church tea and maple sugar parties are the leading amusements in Delavan.

Yesterday's snow storm has put the ground in better condition for seedling.

The old light house at the foot of Seventh street, Racine, has been demolished. It was built in 1839.

Mrs. Hunt's school will open on Monday next, the 22nd inst.

Trinity church held a fair in the school gymnasium room last evening.

Many of the discharged soldiers of this country intend to avail themselves of the new act granting them homesteads.

A clock for the tower of the Catholic church has arrived and will soon be placed in a position to deal out time to the fourth warders.

An improvement to the court house grounds in the shape of a new plank walk from the street to the court house is in the course of construction. It is merely temporary.

The board of education met at the office of the secretary last evening and reorganized by electing Wm. A. Lawrence president and Dr. L. J. Barrows secretary on the first ballot.

Last year it took in the neighborhood of one hundred ballots to elect the same gentlemen but they went in easy this time as they have been tried and found to be capable and worthy of the positions.

chores. Then when winter sends its screamers in the line of storm and snow, and the hungry Vital Thimers wring their hands and wall in woe, he who labored while the plot of the blizzard was in the air, sits at home in peace and quiet, eating sausage with his wife. Do not rear and bust your breeches over questions of misrule; rule the yard and paint the kitchen, try and mend your mule; you'll dodge the living hell, while the Vital Thimers today, no one on the street will miss you, and you'll put up far more hay.

Law Will Be Hard to Enforce

For lower Austria a new law containing various regulations concerning servants has gone into force. It declares that servants must no longer be called "servants," but "employees."

The employer must feed the servant properly, and the servant is forbidden to chatter or gossip to other servants about the private affairs of the family. It is not stated how this provision shall be enforced.

OF HISTORY

BELLE BOYD'S THRILLING CAREER.

By A. W. MACY.

Belle Boyd was born in Martinsburg, Va., in 1843. Shortly after the outbreak of the Civil war she shot and killed a Federal soldier who assailed her mother. She gave Stonewall Jackson information that enabled him to drive General Banks and his army out of the Shenandoah valley. She was captured and confined in the military prison at Washington for three months, and was then exchanged for a Union colonel. She went south, and was commissioned as captain in the Confederate service. She was again captured, taken to Washington and sentenced to be shot; but she was reprieved, and again exchanged, this time for a general. She afterward sailed for England with important dispatches from the Confederate government, but was a third time captured and a second time sentenced to be shot. The sentence was finally commuted, and she was escorted to the Canadian border by a United States marshal and told never to return to this country on pain of death. She did return, though, for she died at Killbourne, Wis., in 1895.

FARM
MORTGAGES

We own and offer for sale first mortgage farm loans netting 8%.

We give all loans sold the same attention as if they remain our own investment. See that taxes are paid on the land, collect interest from year to year and principal when due without charge to purchaser.

I have seen this land many times during the last ten years and know it to be good. It is because I know the security so well I offer to give any purchaser ample time to investigate and buy the mortgage back if he does not find it as represented.
